Honestly the best experince i have had with a contractor. They were a little more expensive then other bids i got but they show up on time with no high pressure sales tactics. The owner came to my home and within 5 days of signing a contract they were out and installed a new concrete patio to the rear of my home. Cleanup was very good and there workers were very professional and polite. Steve came by during the nob and after it was finished to make sure we were satisfied with everything.
