I would happily recommend Mr Contractor to do a job in my house again. More than his ability to get the job done, is his honesty and integrity. No job is without problems, but those problems allow you to see whether you are dealing with a reputable contractor. And we were!

All the workers were capable and responsive to our interests.

If we called we were met with a friendly voice, Jenny, who got our message quickly to the right person. Ken was on the scene overseeing things often.

We were very satisfied with the outcome of our job and give Mr Contractor a thumbs up!
