Mr. Contractor just completed my kitchen renovation and I couldn't be happier. Solid-wood cabinets, top-grade granite countertops, beautiful wood floors and stainless-steel appliances have created a gorgeous, up-to-date room. Early in the demolition process, the electrician discovered knob-and-tube wiring that had been installed improperly. Mr. Contractor replaced the wiring correctly and in so doing made my kitchen -- and my house -- safer. I will be forever grateful.

Ken Spector, my contractor, Jim Sproul, the electrician, and all the men who worked on this project could not have been nicer. Through snowstorms and frigid temperatures, they showed up on time every day, even stopping to shovel my sidewalk whenever it was needed.

When I first talked with Ken about this project -- which included tearing down a wall, creating a breakfast bar and adding storage -- I thought it would take months. Ken said three to four weeks, and shockingly four weeks from start of construction, my kitchen was done completely.

Was this renovation cheap? No. But as we all know, 'you get what you pay for.' When I decide to sell my house, this money and much more will come back to me.

Mr. Contractor has done other work on my house and if I ever need anything else done, they will be called first. I would recommend them to anyone looking for top-notch, professional work by people who care about the customer.
